The Awards Are Piling Up!!

November 1, 2000

Murray Hill, NJ, November 1, 2000 – Who would have thought we would have made such a splash in our first year of business!

Well, with all of our experience, it's no wonder we should be treated like Princes.

That is exactly how we felt when LearningWare kissed us with their award for “Best Company Name” in October.

“We are very excited about this honor, but were not ready to jump into buying the display case yet,” said Lawrence Showfety, Director of Development for Frogkick. (Although we did go buy a hammer and nail).

LearningWare Inc. (www.learningware.com) is a market leader in computer software for learning. View Frogkick's prestigious award at <http://www.learningware.com/whatsnew/buzz1000.html>.
